AN ENCYCLOPÆDIA of CIVIL ENGINEERING, Historical, Theoretical, and Practical.

By EDWARD CRESY, F.S.A. C.E.

 The object of this work is to embody in a single volume all the principles involved in the theory and practice of Civil Engineering. It is intended to form at once a complete Manual for the Student, and a Guide to him in his professional avocations. The First Part contains an Historical Account of the most celebrated Engineering Works executed by the Ancients, followed by ample descriptions of the improvements in engineering science introduced in America and Europe. The Second Part is entirely devoted to the Theory and Practice of the Science, including Canals, Draining and Embanking, the Formation of Railways, Gradients, Rails, Planes, and all the subjects falling under the head of Railway Engineering.

"A desideratum in the history of engineering science is supplied by the publication of this remarkable volume. There is not a member of the community, from the highest engineer to the humblest surveyor, who will not find here materials to enrich his mind and extend his knowledge."—Irish Railway Gazette.

TO BE SOLD, by PRIVATE CONTRACT, LICENSES for the SALE of a VALUABLE PATENT IMPROVEMENT

in one of the leading articles of the trade. It has been applied to several public buildings and private mansions with great success, and when fully brought under the notice of the public, the advantages it presents will ensure extended sale. Arrangements have been made with one of the principal firms in Sheffield, who at present are the only licensees for the manufacture, and to a stove grate maker or ironmonger in London would form a most valuable adjunct. It is now proposed to dispose of Licenses for the sale of the patent articles, also the goodwill and stock in trade in London, and if desired, the lease of the premises. The patent right for a term of fourteen years can also be purchased.—For further particulars apply to Messrs. FULLER and HORSEY, Billiter-street.

The principal building has been erected but a few years, in a most substantial manner, and the whole of the premises are well arranged for the business. About 2,000l. will be required. "Office of Works, Woburn Park, Jan. 10, 1852.

"In answer to your inquiries respecting the Gutta Percha Tubing for Pump Suctions, I find that the water has not affected it in the least, although it will eat lead through in two years; we have adopted it largely, both on account of being cheaper than lead, much easier fixed, and a more perfect job.

"Yours, &c. C. HACKER."
